When Donald takes on a client need, he combines his prior experience as a research chemist and a farmer to address the issue from all angles. As a former chemist, he approaches every file analytically and ensures that a comprehensive, detail-oriented plan for achieving success is developed. As a farmer, he understands that the best solution is one that works when you need it to. With the ability to think strategically and simplify complex problems, Donald works closely with clients in a variety of areas to solve the problems most important to them.
